AFFIDAVIT OF DONALD S. GOSSELIN, ESQ.

Your affiant, Donald S. Gosselin, having been sworn, does hereby depose and say that,

- I am the Federal Monitor overseeing the compliance efforts of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico concerning the areas of Internal Investigations and Discipline in its Consent Decree with the Department of Justice.
- During my regular duties, I travel to Puerto Rico at least ten times per year. During my most recent visit, my inbound flight was from my residence in Panama via Copa Airlines. My flight was scheduled originally for a 21 January departure but was rescheduled for the following day. Copa attributed the reschedule due to a lack of serviceable aircraft as all of its Boeing 737 Max-9 aircraft were grounded.
- 3. Copa Airlines offers a discount to Panamanian residents of retirement age. As a such a resident, the law grants a 25% discount on Copa airfares. In order to receive this discount, I book a standard coach airfare online with Copa, place the reservation on hold, call and wait for Copa's Call Center to answer, have the discount calculated and applied and finally make credit card payment of the new fare. This process can take between 15 30 minutes yet results in a lower cost to the taxpayers.
- The original rate for my January COPA coach class ticket PTY-SJU was actually $796.55. My reduced rate for that same flight was $617.55. See receipts attached.
- 5. As a gold-level frequent flier with Copa Airlines, I am often upgraded to First Class or Business Class at no cost, as a courtesy extended to their best customers. Once such an upgrade has been made, Copa Airlines changes all of the references to the fare to "business class."
- 6. Shortly after I paid the reduced coach fare, I received notice from Copa of my complimentary upgrade to Business Class due to my status. After requesting a receipt from Copa for the original reduced fare of $617.55 paid to Copa, Copa stamped "Business Class" on the receipt to indicate that I had received my free upgrade as a Gold Level flier. (See Attachment)

I Donald Stephen Gosselin do hereby make oath that the foregoing statements are true, and those that are offered upon representation or belief, that I believe them to be true as well,
